MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

Despite 2017 having been a favourable year, financial markets stepped back a little in December. With no significant microeconomic news, investors looked closely at macroeconomics ones. They were satisfying overall, with an acceleration in economic growth in the eurozone (and growth forecasts for 2018 revised upwards) and a stabilisation of American growth at a high level. Thus, the Fed could raise interest rates once again (for the third time this year) and foresees three additional hikes in 2018. For the ECB, some of the members began to mention an exit from the quantitative easing maybe as soon as the end of the current one (September 2018). This information and the implementation of the fiscal reform in the USA led to a slight increase in interest rates in the eurozone. They are still at historically low levels (10-year OAT at 0.79% and Bund at 0.43%) and slightly higher than they were at the beginning of the year. Oil gained 5% in December (+18% in 2017) to reached 67$/barrel (brent). The euro-dollar parity, after having reached at the end of 2016 its lowest level since 2003 at 1.05, continued to strengthen to 1.20 benefiting from good growth forecasts in the eurozone, and therefore registered a 15% increase in the year.

Credit market was relatively stable during the month (the Itraxx index went from 48 to 45 bps). Equity markets stepped back a little this month (Eurostoxx - 1.8% and +10.1% in the year).

The fund Auris Sélection Défensive gained +0.12% in December which brings the annual performance to +3.56%. The fund has maintained its conservative positioning and continued to prefer short maturities (especially in high yield) or specific securities (floating rate bonds, perpetual financials, hybrids). During the month, the fund hasn't made any major adjustments. Only existing positions have been strengthened (Loxam 2021, SPP Eustream 2020) as a result of some bonds redemptions (Picard TV 2019). Cash level is still high (18% of assets).

The fund has a yield to maturity of 1.9% for a sensitivity which has stayed low at 1.45. The weighted average rating is still BB+, one-step below the Investment Grade category.

Equity exposure has been maintained at 3% of the portfolio.

The fund keeps a cautious investment policy with more than 40% of the portfolio (including liquidity) which has a maturity inferior to 1 year, in a context where the reward for the risk taken (credit and especially duration) often appears very low. This approach, combined with an active management of the positions in the portfolio should allow to continue to deliver a steady performance with a limited volatility.
