COUNTRY BREAKDOWN

INDUSTRY BREAKDOWN

5. MANAGER'S COMMENTARY

February followed the same trend as January, with a market that gained nearly 4%, driven by the cyclical sectors that were among the most affected at the end of 2018 : Construction (+7.3%), Insurance (+6.2%) and Chemicals (+6.1%). This increase in risk appetite is not especially evident in smaller companies, which posted a slightly lower performance (MSCI Europe Small Cap: +3,4%). Country analysis also reflects low divergences, except for smaller and less liquid markets (Ireland +6%, Greece +11.5%).

In this context, the fund rose by 4,2%, slightly outperforming its benchmark index. The fund partly benefited from its good sector exposure (absent notably from the telecommunications and utilities sectors, which didn't made any progress during the month), but above all from the very good performance posted by Micro Focus, (software, UK, € 9 Bn capitalisation), which announced a plan to sell a part of its activity, allowing a significant return to shareholders (+29% over the month).

The largest purchase of the month was Orpéa, a group of retirement homes, whose valuation seemed extremely attractive to us after its sharp fall in the second half of 2018 (-20% from its highest point at 125 euros).

In a still uncertain macroeconomic environment, our positioning remains cautious but we will take advantage of the market's excesses to take a position in quality growth companies at attractively prices.
